Note from the editor:

Welcome to Art in Norwich, Norfolk and beyond

Life is gradually emerging from the constraints of the Covid pandemic but of course now the cost of living crisis is taking effect and so some of our regular contributors are missing as their budgets are stretched. Where possible we will still include their activities on the website as the arts and culture sector needs support.

The cover shows a detail from Homage to Thomas Browne currently on Hay Hill in the middle of Norwich, a public artwork which the Norwich City Council are proposing to remove this summer. It may be the last time it is seen so we have given it a highlight on page 31.

We have also included more museums around the county this time. To reflect this and the general spread of coverage across Norfolk, we have slightly changed the wording on the cover. This is also because we include cultural organisations and events that are not primarily visual arts such as the National Centre for Writing and Norfolk & Norwich Festival.

In Norwich, Mandell's and Fairhurst galleries have a steady flow of high-quality exhibitions with a wide range of artists, both locally-based and from further afield.

Contemporary & Country have an exhibition space in The Granary in Bedford Street, Norwich – an interior design shop run by Jarrolds showing the work of East Anglian artists and makers and have a new show East to East at Houghton Hall, where there is also a new major exhibition of work by Sean Scully.

OUTPOST, an artist-led gallery exhibits the work of new and emerging artists who explore different media and approaches, many from their studios in Gildengate.

There is an increasing interest in making of all sorts, people like to get their hands dirty with printing ink, clay, paint as well as cleaner activities such as knitting, sewing and other textiles. The Raveningham Centre, Royal Drawing School, Artpocket and Anteros Arts all have classes and courses from leisure to serious qualifications.

Fire & Flux offer ceramics sessions and workspace as well as selling artists' work in their gallery shop in Pottergate. Norwich Studio Art Gallery in Upper St Giles specialises in art and ceramics Eastern Europe run by artist Gennadiy Ivanov who has recently painted a huge climate change mural installed in the City Hall Council Chamber, relating to work he has been doing with the Climate Research Unit at UEA and in Canada.

Norfolk Contemporary Art Society (ncas) has a programme of talks and visits covering a range of topics to stimulate knowledge and discussion as well as their popular art auction. East Gallery in Norwich has a number of exhibitions including a new strand of research based shows, East Projects.

The Sainsbury Centre has launched a new Universal Ticket which offers access to all galleries and exhibitions on a pay-what-you-can basis which makes it accessible to all.

Norfolk Museums are hosting exhibitions around the county with the most notable being the exciting display at Norwich Castle featuring artefacts from the Royal ship The Gloucester which sank off the coast of Great Yarmouth in 1682. The wreck was discovered in 2012 by the two Barnwell brothers (the printers of this booklet) and is being hailed as the most important find since the Mary Rose – see page 9 for more details.

Around the county, Cromer Art Space has a number of exhibitions and events, and Bircham Gallery is an established selling gallery on the High Street in Holt. Nearby, Bayfield Hall has the 2nd year of its sculpture trail set in its natural surroundings.

North Norfolk Exhibition Project have moved their annual exhibition from Cley to Wighton, where the Alfred Cohen Museum is also opening in July at the Old School House. Norwich & Norfolk Art Circle and Norwich 20 Group both run life drawing workshops and exhibitions see pages 41 and 43.

The Norfolk & Norwich Festival is from 12 to 28 May this year and includes the City of Literature weekend of events 27/28 May, programmed for the Norfolk & Norwich Festival by the National Centre for Writing based at Dragon Hall in Norwich

There have been changes in some of our medieval churches of art: St Margaret's Church in St Benedict's Street is being substantially refurbished by the Norwich Historic Churches Trust and will reopen under new management as a piano bar with exhibition space and home for Norwich Print Fair in the Autumn. St Mary Coslany is also being refurbished and will become Coslany Artspace with studios and exhibition space opening in the summer or when the work is finished.

The Yare Gallery in Great Yarmouth has closed temporarily but is expecting to reopen as a gallery space to hire.

To take you around the county, we have included summaries of arts and culture on offer in Cromer, Diss, Great Yarmouth and King's Lynn as these towns are very much part of the growing Norfolk arts scene.

There is extra information about these places on the Art in Norwich website www.artinnorwich.org.uk

To help find your way around the booklet, Norfolk events are signified by a green side tab, grey for Norwich events.

About Art in Norwich

This programme is a collaboration of a number of organisations who promote visual art, public art, craft, heritage and literature in and around Norwich.

The reach extends into the wider county of Norfolk, highlighting the thriving arts and cultural scene.

The aim is to gather visual art listings in one place so that they are easy to find and to offer an overview of art activity and infrastructure in city and county throughout the year. There is an emphasis on visual art but wider cultural events are also included where appropriate. Behind Art in Norwich is a self-supporting partnership of art groups and cultural organisations.

We hope you will keep this booklet safe as it covers six months' programming. Because of space limitations and lots going on, exhibition and event details are brief but you can find out more from individual organisations and venues from their own websites. See pages at the back of the booklet for maps, contact and venue details.

Please also visit our website at www.artinnorwich.org.uk where you can download a pdf of this booklet.

Important: All information is subject to change - please check with individual organisations before travelling to an event.

Art and Culture in Norwich & Norfolk and Covid

Clearly everyone has been affected by Covid over recent years, and the normal routine of publishing Art in Norwich & Norfolk was disrupted for a while but we are pleased to say that we are now back to a regular spring/autumn schedule.

In true creative spirit, organisations and artists are powering through and making new events happen. The continuing demand for Art in Norwich and Norfolk has been truly heart-warming. Inevitably there is still some uncertainty in programming so please use this booklet as a directory and check with venues and organisations by visiting their websites and social media.

It goes without saying that published events are still at risk as Covid hasn't totally gone away and we are still vigilant so please check before setting out to an event and be mindful of others. But don't let it stop you going out, as venues and organisers need your support.

You can find web addresses on every page and a directory at the back of the booklet.

ART IN NORWICH & NORFOLK BY POST

We have all had to adapt to the constraints of Covid and picking up printed material is harder than usual – some venues have closed and with fuel and other price rises we are just going out less – making active choices more important.

To make that easier, Art and Music in Norwich/Norfolk are now available by post – pay the postage and get your very own copy delivered to your door.

Go to www.artinnorwich.org.uk/AiNbypost or email info@theshiftnorwich.org.uk find out what to do to get your copy for the price of a stamp.

THE BEATLES ON FILM

This exhibition explores the cultural impact that The Beatles had in East Anglia through their groundbreaking use of film and video between 1963 and 1970. It's 60 years since Beatlemania exploded throughout the UK in 1963 and unable to keep up with demand for personal appearances, The Beatles pioneered the use of film and promotional videos to bring their music to the masses.

As part of the exhibition, we are interested to capture the memories of local people going to see the films A Hard Day's Night or Help in the 1960s. If you have a Beatlemania story, please drop us a line at The Corn Hall. The Corn Hall is normally closed on Sunday and public holidays. Homage to Sir Thomas Browne

Homage to Sir Thomas Browne on Hay Hill being used as the artists intended, as a living room for the city. Photo Keith Roberts

In 2007, this public artwork was commissioned as 'a living room for the city', a sitting and meeting place, in the centre of a busy urban space, and has been well used by people of all ages ever since. In 2023, Norwich City Council are planning to refurbish Hay Hill and remove the artwork to storage and not return it to its original place on Hay Hill.

As the work is very site specific, it is hard to find a suitable alternative location so it may not be seen again. Although many people think that the sculptures are randomly scattered, in fact the main pieces sit on an invisible 5-pointed grid called a quincunx which Browne believed occurred throughout nature and which the artists used as a starting point for the design for Hay Hill.

If you are interested to know more about Browne, the Poiriers or the artwork and its provenance please check www.sirthomasbrowne.org.uk

Hay Hill, Norwich

This major public artwork, Homage to Thomas Browne, was created and installed in 2007 by renowned international artists Anne & Patrick Poirier. It was conceived to celebrate Sir Thomas Browne, a 17th century philosopher, physician, writer, wordsmith, botanist and one of the world's earliest scientists who lived his adult life in Norwich where Prêt à Manger is now.

After a long and distinguished life in London, he was buried in St Peter Mancroft in 1682 which also has a number of artefacts relating to Browne and his family, that can be seen inside the church, including a replica of his skull.

Sir Thomas Browne, 17th century polymath, born London 1604, died in Norwich 1682

Patrick Poirier, one of the artists on Hay Hill. Often the Poirier's artwork has classical and archaeological references. The marble brain and eye refer to his philosophical work, curiosity and powers of observation. The inscriptions on pieces refer to his major written works.

Arts and culture has been established in King's Lynn since the 1950s. In 2021, the King's Lynn Festival celebrated 70 years of an annual programme of music, theatre and art in the town which continues in 2022.

As well as traditional favourites such as Festival Too, the annual literature (in March) and poetry (September) festivals, the Shakespeare and Hansa Festivals and the Mart, there have been more recent cultural developments in the town.

GroundWork Gallery in Purfleet specialises in art which addresses environmental issues and includes exhibitions, talks and workshops and a meeting place for creative people. West Norfolk Artists' Association has over 70 members of active artists exhibiting regularly in various venues including St Nicholas' Chapel and Fermoy Gallery.

Greyfriars Art Space has moved into the Customs House opposite GroundWork Gallery in Purfleet.

A group of creative professionals from around West Norfolk have been working with arts and tech company Collusion to develop visual and interactive content for the network of outdoor projectors that were installed in the town as part of an EU-funded project some years ago.

Collusion are now based in the White Barn, part of the Guildhall complex and run Art Play Tech projects.

St George's Guildhall in King Street has received Towns Deal funding to enable a complete overhaul and renovation of this historic arts space and theatre, one of the oldest in the country and where William Shakespeare himself is said to have performed. It will be an arts complex, performance space and creative hub.

CARL ROWE

Artist and former Head of Fine Art at Norwich University of the Arts

– cans, sticks, pipes, food, dust and traps

Since leaving art school, Carl's practice has been governed by a contradictory cycle of socio-political concern and graphic abstraction – a kind of schizophrenic restlessness between objectiveness and subjectiveness.

"The cans, sticks, pipes, food, dust, and traps that I list in the title of this talk represent chapters or sub-headings within a longer narrative. I will tell the story of these things, what they mean to me and why they appear in my art".

NCAS ART AUCTION

Free entry

It's been a while since Norfolk Contemporary Art Society has been able to hold its biennial art auction, mainly due to Covid-19 restrictions, but also the Society's reluctance to ask artists and friends to donate in very difficult times.

The auction will again be led by James Glennie, a qualified valuer with over 30 years' experience in the art valuation and auction field, fourteen of which were with international auctioneers Bonhams. James led our successful auction in 2019.

The time is now right to resurrect this much-loved event and we have reserved the Undercroft (in front of City Hall, behind Norwich Market) for Thursday 6 July, 7–9pm for the next ncas art auction.

Most ncas member activities are not-for-profit. The ncas art auction is a very important fundraiser to keep the Society financially viable. We would like to ask for your support both in donating work and of course by attending on the night. So book the date, 6 July, in your diary – more details to follow

THE LAST VOYAGE OF THE GLOUCESTER Norfolk's Royal Shipwreck, 1682

On 6 May 1682, a warship carrying the future King of England and Scotland ran aground in heavy seas off the coast of Great Yarmouth. Within an hour the vessel sank, causing many lives to be lost, and for over 300 years, the wreck and its contents lay buried on the seabed.

Now, this major exhibition will explore the ship's dramatic discovery by brothers Julian and Lincoln Barnwell, and display for the first time some of the fascinating objects recovered from the wrecksite.

Most striking is the bell – that confirmed the ship's identity – which will be on show alongside beautifully preserved personal effects, that tell stories of the passengers and crew, and of life on board the ship.

Created in partnership with UEA.

Lumen brings together works from Norwich Castle's collection of modern and contemporary art to explore how artists engage with ideas around light. Light impacts us in a wide range of ways. It is a spectrum that enables us to experience colour depending on the perspective of the viewer, location and conditions; it distinguishes night and day – underpinning many of the rhythms at the core of our lives.

On display are 25 works exploring these themes by artists including Bridget Riley, Andy Warhol and Patrick Hughes, as well as recently acquired works by Bruce Lacey and Eva Rothschild.

Norwich Print Fair

St Margaret's Church, St Benedict's Street

The Norwich Print Fair is back!

Norwich Print Fair was the first Print Fair in the UK and was the brain-child of renowned mezzotint artist Martin Mitchell whose vision was always to champion traditional and contemporary printmaking techniques and to educate and involve the wider public. Each year we hold Open Portfolio and Demonstration days where the public can talk to the artists about their work and watch as prints come hot off the presses!

This year there will be around 30 printmakers displaying framed and unframed work for sale as well as greetings cards. We look forward to seeing you there!

Coming in Autumn 2023

THE 25th NORWICH PRINT FAIR

The Gallery at St Margaret's, St Benedict's Street, Norwich, NR2 4TU.

David Jones. Sailors' Reading Room, Southwold. (Linocut).

Martin Mitchell. Winter Copse. (Mezzotint).

After the unavoidable and extremely disappointing postponement of our annual celebration of printmaking in September 2020 (due to covid), followed by the necessary renovations to St Margaret's, WE WILL FINALLY be welcoming visitors back into the beautifully renovated and glorious medieval Church of St Margaret's for our 25th annual celebration of contemporary printmaking in the autumn when the work is completed.

Exact dates yet to be confirmed but check our website and social media for updates.

North of the City – take a walk

OUTPOST Artists Studios, Gildengate House, Anglia Square

The north of the city has become a hot-spot for new artists and creative businesses.

Around Duke Street, Anglia Square, Pitt Street, Magdalen Street and St Augustines there is a new wave of artist-led regeneration. In all cities there is an area which gets a bit run down and property is left empty. As values drop, it becomes feasible for artists and start-up businesses to rent space. In some cases, enlightened developers allow artists to have spaces for 'meanwhile use' until areas can be redeveloped such as St Mary's and St George's Works just off Duke Street where the Shoe Factory Social Club and Lion House are accommodating artists and creative uses.

New galleries and spaces have popped up in Magdalen Street, as well as Todd Designs and Easton Pottery in St Augustine's Street and Men's Shed in Pitt Street off Anglia Square.

Norwich Hackspace, Artpocket, the Royal Drawing School and a range of other artists have settled into Lion House Studios in Muspole Street, right opposite the Muspole Street Studios which has accommodated artists and potters for many years. Many of the studios in this area offer hands-on sessions in printmaking, pottery, drawing, textiles, illustration and painting.

Member-led group OUTPOST has run a gallery in Tombland for 15 years and also manages around 80 artist studios in Gildengate House in Anglia Square. These all give opportunities to emerging artists, students and creatives of all ages.

As well as galleries and art spaces, there are vintage shops, makerspaces and artist shops, ethnic foods, and antiques and collectables in dig-around caverns where you will find interesting bargains and artefacts.

Take a walk along Magdalen Street and find Anteros Arts Foundation, the Merchant House Café, Sahara Café, Looses, Dhaba at Fifteen, Aladdin's Cave, the Make Place and much more.

This is definitely an area of the city to have a poke around in and explore – please do!

WIGHTON23 : CYCLE

The Project's annual Summer Exhibition of Contemporary Art is back – offering artists with a connection to Norfolk the opportunity to respond to the unique architecture and outside space of our new venue – All Saint's Church, Wighton in north Norfolk.

The exhibition will include work by contemporary artists from across Norfolk, or those connected to the area.

The curator is Rachel Allen from Mandell's Gallery and the theme is 'Cycle', understood in different ways:

- the life cycles of people, plants, places, object
- how life cycles involve other cycles of time – a day, a month, seasons, years
- how these things can take on new identities and meanings with a new cycle
- cycle in its visual form, movement and shape, rhythm and repetition.

What are the potentials of culture?
Socially, environmentally, economically

Join artists, cultural practitioners, community organisations and others in a lively and interactive discussion. We will uncover new thinking about the relationship between arts and culture and the current socio-political climate, identify common cultural capital and potentials, and explore ways we can use these to proactively contribute to society.

originalprojects; is based in Great Yarmouth and researching what it means to live and operate in a designated priority and 'levelling up' place.

This workshop brings early findings, stories and perspectives that have emerged from collaborative research and discussions to a public audience. Pertinent themes include diversity, access, collaboration and environmental sustainability, as well as the role of the artist in places of low arts infrastructure and engagement.

Provocations, learnings and momentum, from this Public Workshop will inform the agenda for an 'in person' National Creative Summit in 2024.

Sarah Hartnett & Lucy Stein + invited artists

Sarah Hartnett and Lucy Stein have been undertaking a pilgrimage along the Mary ley line since 2019. The journey has served as a generative catalyst for multiple collaborations, shows and events, as well as offering space for transformative action.

They choose to see their journey as a feminist quest for embodied learning and producing collaborative work. The exhibition at PRIMEYARC will be a group show representative of this multidisciplinary approach, showing contributions from people they've worked with in the last 3 years.

Much of the work has been formulated in Cornwall, and as the ley line only just grazes London they have been interested in how to make work for peripheral institutions away from the metropolises and hierarchies therein.

An evening of performances will take place on Saturday 6 May – details will be announced via social media

Royal Drawing School

The Royal Drawing School is an independent, not-for-profit resource that aims to raise the standard and profile of drawing through teaching and practise. It is one of only a few institutions in the world offering in-depth, quality tuition in drawing from observation.

The Young Artists Programme for 10-18 year olds offers a unique opportunity to students who want to develop their drawing skills through sustained tuition in a supportive environment. Our courses are open to all levels of experience, and are a chance to meet and learn with other young people in a creative community. The programme is taught by professional artists who are alumni of our postgraduate programme, The Drawing Year, and experienced in teaching children.

Regular drawing at any age can enhance focus and concentration and increase self-esteem, and this can be especially beneficial for school-age children. The Young Artists Programme helps children develop their drawing abilities and sustain their enthusiasm for self-expression within an artist-led environment.

Founded in 2000 by HRH The Prince of Wales and artist Catherine Goodman as The Prince's Drawing School, it became the Royal Drawing School in 2014.

Courses for all ages are running both in the studio and online, in London and Norwich or more information and to book online, visit www.royaldrawingschool.org/courses/public-courses/ or phone 020 7613 8559

Sainsbury Centre at UEA

The Sainsbury Centre is a genre-defying art museum with world-class collections and a unique perspective on how art can foster cultural dialogue and exchange. It is one of the most important public university art galleries in Britain.

Founded in 1973 at the University of East Anglia (UEA) based on the generous donation of Sir Robert and Lady Sainsbury who donated their extraordinary art collection to the University. A radical new building by Norman Foster was designed to house the collection and was his first public work. The Centre holds one of the most impressive art collections outside of the national institutions and is located on the UEA campus, set in 350 acres of parkland. It has the largest temperature-controlled gallery spaces in the East of England.

A new Universal Ticket will be available from 12 March 2023.

The Universal Ticket grants access to the permanent collection, lower and mezzanine galleries, and the sculpture park.

Tickets will operate on a 'Pay If and What You Can' basis, so you can choose the price from free through to full membership.

No pre-booking necessary. If you would like to make a Group Booking or have additional access needs, please contact us on scva@uea.ac.uk or 01603 593199.

EMPOWERING ART: INDIGENOUS CREATIVITY AND ACTIVISM FROM NORTH AMERICA'S NORTHWEST COAST

A ground-breaking exhibition of rich, but rarely seen artworks, bringing together exceptional contemporary and historical pieces from across the Northwest Coast of North America. Developed in close consultation with Indigenous artists and community leaders from across the Northwest Coast, Empowering Art showcases the talent of their artistic and cultural creations on a scale unseen in the UK since the 1970s.

Bringing a contested past into the realities of the present, the exhibition tells the story of a coastline with distinctive artistic and cultural traditions, where creative exchange is visible in historical objects but also resonates through contemporary art.

Saturday 18 March to Sunday 17 September 2023

JULIAN STAIR: ART, DEATH AND THE AFTERLIFE

Created in response to the global pandemic, Julian Stair offers commemoration and solace for those who have died and lost loved ones. Around thirty new artworks by the artist, including monumental figural forms, will invite the viewer to meditate on the relationship between the clay vessel and the human body. They will be presented alongside objects from the Sainsbury Centre Collection, selected by the artist to communicate the universality of death as aesthetic inspiration and philosophical inquiry.

By drawing together ancient Cycladic marble figures, anthropomorphic vessels from Ecuador, Nigeria and Japan, and twentieth-century drawings by Alberto Giacometti, Stair creates a poetic and moving meditation on the human condition. Positive and uplifting, Art, Death and the Afterlife explores humanity's reliance on art as a means of traversing the unknown and overcoming the finality of death.

Entry to both exhibitions will be available with the new Universal Ticket. No need to book in advance.

GRENFELL QUILT EXHIBITION

Part of the Norfolk Makers Festival

The Grenfell Memorial Quilt started as a symbol of grief and protest at the tragedy of the fire at Grenfell Tower when so many people lost their lives and homes.

The memorial quilt project was created by the 'artist' Tuesday Greenidge, whose daughter escaped from the tower fire in 2017. Tuesday has been assisted by an army of sewists and although, initially, this was a local project, contributions started coming in from around the UK, Europe and the USA.

The aim is to grow the quilt to the dimensions of the Grenfell Tower by the 10th anniversary of the tragedy in 2027.

So far the quilt panels total 72ft, which is the width of the tower, and all the completed sections are on show at St Peter Mancroft where you can view them throughout the Norfolk Maker Festival from its launch on 9 March.

If you want to add to the Memorial Quilt you can find out how to on the Norfolk Maker Festival website here: <http://bit.ly/3YYVAfc>

Entrance to the exhibitions are free.

Strangers' Hall, Norwich

One of Norwich's most historic buildings, this magnificent house has been home to many of the city's leading citizens since the 14th century.

Owned by a series of wealthy merchants, during the 16th century the house became known as Strangers' Hall, referring to the 'strangers' who came to work in Norwich as weavers from France, Belgium and the Low Countries.

Now as a museum open to the public you can explore rooms furnished in the styles of different historical periods, brought to life with beautiful textiles, domestic objects and creative interpretation.

Arts & culture in Great Yarmouth

There is a growing number of arts projects in Great Yarmouth recently, in newer venues as well as old favourites. Over the last few years, money has been invested and as a result the arts scene is growing. The Great Yarmouth Preservation Trust is also doing a great job restoring heritage for the benefit of the town.

St George's Theatre is a main venue with theatre, music and shows all year round. The theatre was refurbished a few years ago and has a fantastic interior – it is well worth a visit as well as checking out the programme which includes a wide range of repertoire from local to national touring. Skippings Gallery on King Street has also been renovated and hosts regular art exhibitions.

The Yare Gallery on South Quay is currently closed but expected to re-open as a gallery for hire in summer 2023.

Great Yarmouth Hippodrome has 4 major circus spectaculars a year as well as hosting concerts and shows from other producers. The Hippodrome is a unique place and a must-see venue – it never disappoints! The Empire on Marine Parade also has a weekly music offer with DJs, established up-and-coming bands as well as street food kitchens, beer and cocktails.

Out There Arts (formerly Seachange) also runs regular circus and performing arts classes in their home at the Drill House as well as the epic Out There Festival in September which brings many visitors to the town to enjoy home-grown and international circus and outdoor arts performances in St George's Park and other locations around the town.

Freshly Greated is a programme of community opportunities funded under Creative People and Places.

There is a thriving street art scene including Reprezent CIC which has created a trail of murals around the town and curates the Great Yarmouth Underground Gallery – a ground-breaking effort to spread public street art that embellishes and enriches the visual landscape of Great Yarmouth as well explaining the heritage and culture of the town. In 2021, Banksy famously spent a Spraycation in Norfolk, leaving three artworks in Yarmouth which has attracted many visitors.

The town itself is a cultural wonderland with traditional seaside style on one side – sometimes surreal as a Cinderella carriage comes around the corner – the famous Giant Snails, the Big Dipper, Model Village and huge sandy beach complete with donkey rides.

On the other side, a rich maritime and industrial history on the river Yare on the docks at South and North Quay.

In the centre, the marketplace, The Rows and historic buildings are testament to a trading past. Anna Sewell lived in a cottage near the Minster and Charles Dickens wrote and set much of David Copperfield in the town.

More recently Greek, Portuguese and Eastern European residents have brought a wide range of cafés, bars and restaurants as well as traditional music and events.

For more information about arts and culture in the town of Great Yarmouth please see the page online at www.artinnorwich.org.uk/yarmoutharts.html

Great Yarmouth Library has a gallery space for art exhibitions as well as a wide range of community events.

Time & Tide Museum also has a regular contemporary art programme curated by Norfolk Museums, as well as permanent displays which describe the history of the fishing industry on which the town was built.

Great Yarmouth Minster is the main venue for organ recitals and classical music, again a spectacular heritage building in the north of the town.

The Great Yarmouth Arts Festival happens annually, taking place in July.

The Venetian Waterways and Boating Lake is an Edwardian seaside attraction that that was restored and reopened in 2019 as a result of a large Lottery-funded project. You can walk in the gardens, hire a boat or have a cuppa in the tearoom – it is also the setting for the amazing Fire on Water outdoor spectacular in November – the Waterways are located next to the North Beach.

THE UNDERCROFT GALLERY

The Undercroft is a raw and robust space found at the back of Norwich Market, under the Memorial Gardens in front of City Hall in the city centre – postcode NR2 1NE. Owned and managed by Norwich City Council it is made available for artists and groups to curate exhibitions at a minimal charge – contact events@norwich.gov.uk. The entrance is tucked away down a set of steps – it is Norwich's stunning secret venue.

Waveney & Blyth Arts

Our patch

Waveney and Blyth Arts promotes the rich cultural identity of our patch by supporting the work of artists, musicians, writers and makers. We partner other arts organisations, build connections and commission and present many art forms ourselves.

For over 12 years the organisation's members have been able to use our website to promote their work, find out what's going on in the arts community round here and of course network. There's a newsletter, a jobs and opportunities bulletin, and members are listed in our creative directory. We are a registered charity, which means we can both attract funding and distribute small grants.

Work by Tobias Ford from the 2022 Sculpture in the Valley at Patton Hall, Suffolk

Over the years we have organised exhibitions, markets, talks, sculpture trails, guided walks, workshops, performances and environmental arts projects. And members get a discount on the events we charge for.

You don't have to be an artist to become a member: sign up (£20 a year) and you'll be supporting the whole enterprise and helping us programme events.

To find out what we're planning this year, keep an eye on our website. We're focusing on three areas – artists' and makers' markets; books, poetry and illustration; and walks. And watch out for events celebrating Roger Deakin and Ronald Blythe.

A quick guide to art in Norwich

View of Norwich from City Hall towards Norwich Castle

Norwich is a medieval city which, in its hey-day, rivalled London in terms of size and was, for many years, England's second city, being only 100 miles from the court of London. It was a wealthy city with its fame built on the textile trade, weaving and particularly wool. Nearly half of the population was French, Dutch or Flemish and engaged in the weaving trade – hence the name of the football club, the Canaries, called after the birds which the weavers kept for company.

In the Industrial Revolution, Norwich was off the beaten track for commerce and transport and so attracted artists, philosophers and radical thinkers, and was home to the famous Norwich School of Painters. Many religious non-conformists also settled here and the place became a hotbed for artists and writers, as it is today. It is also now a UNESCO City of Literature.

Amongst its many cultural assets Norwich can claim: Norwich University of the Arts, one of the best universities for courses in animation and film, fine art and illustration, architecture, games design, graphic design, fashion, media and much more, including East Gallery in St Andrew's Street.

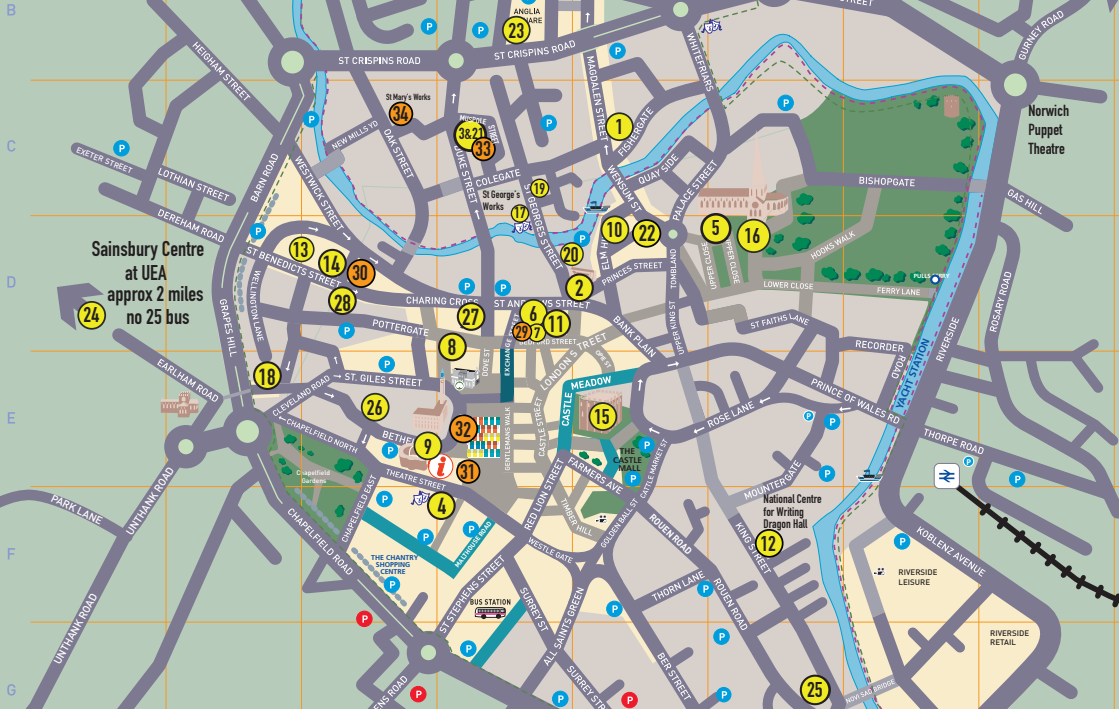

Norwich Castle and the Sainsbury Centre at UEA are world-class venues, attracting national-level touring shows, with permanent collections of World Art as well as work by Picasso, Henry Moore, Francis Bacon, Modigliani, Degas and local masters – Munnings and the Norwich School of Painters including contemporary work from artists such as Colin Self, and now a growing sculpture park.

Norfolk and Norwich Festival in May, an international multi-arts annual festival with 17 days of concerts, outdoor arts and theatre, both mainstream and left-field, as well as an increasingly innovative and site-specific visual arts programme.

Norwich Arts Centre is a multi-arts venue with a programme which includes live art, music and performance and Norwich Cathedral has an events programme with a regular cycle of exhibitions in the Hostry as well as the Hostry Festival in autumn.

There are a number of artist-led galleries and studios, notably OUTPOST, Anteros Arts and St Etheldredas – and some well-established and very active, artists' groups such as Norfolk Contemporary Art Society, Norwich Print Fair, Norwich 20 Group and the Lonely Arts Club.

Venues such as St Mary's Works, Assembly House and St Margaret's Church all support artists and host exhibitions along with several commercial galleries such as Fairhurst and Mandell's. As well as Art in Norwich partners, there are over 900 practising visual artists and groups in Norfolk and a thriving underground arts scene in addition to the main institutions. www.artinnorwich.org.uk

WHERE TO GO IN NORFOLK

As well as exhibition venues listed in this booklet we have included other locations of interest and that often have exhibitions. The whole Norfolk coast is beautiful and varied and the coast road offers splendid views over saltmarshes and beaches. The north coast is especially good for bird watchers, seals, sailing and fishing.

A drive along the coast will take you through many picturesque villages with galleries and craft shops. Inland, market towns are also local hubs of activity. To the west and south are the Brecks – open heathland and forests.

ART IN NORFOLK

Norwich is set in the stunning county of Norfolk. It is the centre of a busy rural hinterland, varied and beautiful. Because there is space, there are over 800 visual artists working here and it has a long history of being a creative place. And the skies, the light and the landscapes have been an ongoing source of inspiration too. Across the county you will find many galleries and exhibitions in larger venues and also pubs and cafés.

For more, check local tourist information, the National Trust properties, Wolterton Hall, Mannington Hall and the market towns of Diss, Wymondham, Loddon and Harleston to the south, Holt, Aylsham, Reepham, Cromer, Sheringham, Blakeney to the north, Great Yarmouth and Lowestoft to the east, King's Lynn and Houghton to the west.

And if you fancy some non-art time, you can't beat the Norfolk coastline, the Brecks and the famous Norfolk Broads.

Explore Norfolk – you will get hooked!

It has a fantastic and historic urban fabric, a glorious rural hinterland and an unparalleled coastline of which I am proud to be able to tell people. Rouen Seine Normandie 2028

In summer 2022, Norfolk was visited by two representatives of the Rouen Seine Normandie Capital of Culture bid – Jean Gabriel Guyant, the head of culture for Rouen and Rebecca Armstrong, Rouen 2028 bid lead.

Rouen in Normandy is twinned with Norwich, Norfolk and this made Norwich a natural partner for their bid to be European Capital of Culture 2028.

They came to open the door, across Norfolk, for a two-way relationship to enable both regions to develop projects, events, festivals, residencies and more over a ten year period.

They asked Norwich City Council to sign a manifesto of collaboration which they could include in their bid proposition.

They met with cultural leaders across the county, asking them to always think about what opportunities there could be to work together when planning projects.

In December 2022 Rouen will know if it is one of the short-listed cities in France. They are up against strong competition. If they are shortlisted they will go forward to a full bid. If not, they are still keen to work with Norwich and Norfolk so if you have an idea or are interested to know more please get in touch via Marion email info@theshiftnorwich.org.uk

The South Asia Collection Museum and Shop

The historic building interior

A unique museum that celebrate the arts, crafts and cultures of South Asia and neighbouring countries.

The South Asia Collection is housed in a Victorian architectural gem, a restored roller-skating rink in the heart of Norwich – close to the Forum and marketplace.

The shop is run by Country & Eastern, who have over 40 years of experience working with artisans in South Asia, importing a wide range of decorative furnishings direct from South Asia.

On show

Gallery spaces hosting exhibitions of paintings and prints from the 18th century to contemporary works, alongside collection exhibitions highlighting objects, stories and crafts: regional textiles; traditional furniture; carved architectural columns, arches and doors; metalwork; cultures and beliefs...
